

LINCOLN TABLET GIVEN TO SCHOOL

Patriotic Services Held in All Buildings Throughout
The City.

THE LIFE OF THE MARTYR.

Judge C. S. Zane, Who Knew Lincoln
In His Youth, Tells of the Stere-ling Worth of the Man.

Exercises commemorative of the life of Abraham Lincoln were held in every school in the city yesterday.
Many prominent men and women addressed the students and the life of the great emancipator was portrayed in a manner calculated to inspire lofty motives and patriotic devotion to the cause of righteousness in the hearts of all.

The main feature of the day was the presentation of a bronze memorial table-let to the Lincoln school by the members of the Grand Army of the Republic. Gov. William Spry, Judge H. P.
Henderson and Col. E. W. Tatlock being among the speakers. Several of the students also took part in the exercises.
They were held in the upper hall of the school. The entire room was draped in flag and bunting and the memorial tablet occupied a prominent place on the north wall of the room. The ceremonies were opened by the singing of "America" by the audience, the following program was then rendered:

NOTIFIED LINCOLN.

Judge Charles S. Zane, who was one of the three men appointed to notify Lincoln of his nomination for president of the United States, spoke of the lowly birth of Lincoln and his subsequent struggle to get an education. He told of the thoroughness which characterized all his acts and referred to him as a "great sub-soiler determined to get at the bottom of everything he undertook."

Gov. Spry spoke briefly of the greatness of Lincoln. Lincoln was great in so many ways that it was difficult to say just what made him great. He was great in body, great in intellect, great in spirit. His remarkable foresight was emphasized by the speaker.
He could see ahead of the present to the eventual outcome of a policy, and it was this peculiar ability which enabled him to preserve the nation intact.
The governor described Lincoln as "the greatest American."

Col. Tatlock made the presentation speech. He told of the early incidents of the war; the call for additional troops and the subsequent response "We are coming, Father Abraham, 300,000 strong." The life of the soldiers on the battlefield was pictured by the colonel. The coming emancipation in this city was then dwelt upon and the intention announced of having the children of the city form a living American flag upon that occasion. Col. Tatlock also presented the school with a number of handsome half-tone cuts of the tablet to be placed in the various rooms of the school.

TABLET ACCEPTED.

Judge H. P. Henderson, president of the school board, made the speech of acceptance. He said no acceptance was necessary, as he felt that all the veterans desired was that the gift should be approved by the board of education.
This he assured them was the case.
He then commented briefly on the life of Lincoln and his sterling qualities as a man, friend and executive.

A very pretty incident of the proceedings was the presentation of a half tone reproduction of the memorial tablet to Mrs. Emma Ramsey Morris, as a compliment to her services in behalf of the old soldiers.
Col. Frank M. Sterrett, executive director of the forty-third national encampment, was the principal speaker at the exercises held in the Sumner school. Dr. E. W. Whitney also spoke of the significance of the occasion, and Mrs. Whitney delighted the students with a piano selection of Blind Tom's, "The Battle of Manassas." The High school and All Hallows college also devoted part of the day to exercises appropriate to the occasion, as did every other school in the city.

Two Important Measures Before Senate Committee.

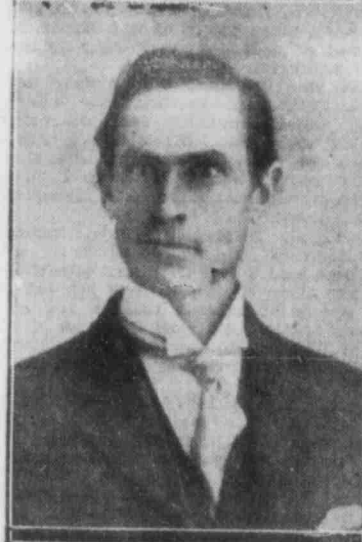

Members of County and Municipal Corporations Committee Who Are Considering the Des Moines Plan Measure for Salt Lake City and the Police and Fire Commission Bill.

HULANISKI, CHAIRMAN.

BENNER X. SMITH.

MILLER OF ST. GEORGE.

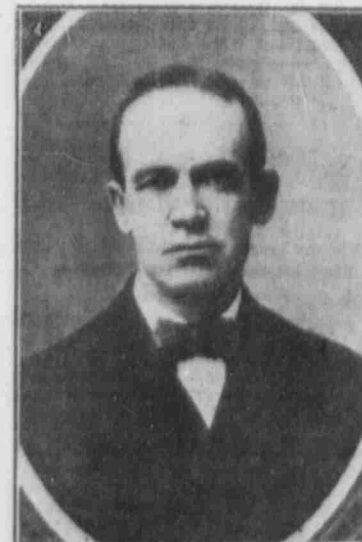

SEELY OF SANPETE.

KUCHLER OF WEBER.

BADGER OF SALT LAKE.

BURTON OF DAVIS.

UNLESS the prohibition measure consumes the time of the state senate for the entire remaining period of the session, two other measures of the first importance will demand the attention of that body.
Both cannot become laws, as one of them does away with the need for the other.

One is the fire and police commission bill. The other is the Des Moines plan of government. One takes away from Salt Lake City its government powers where they refer to the fire protection and the policing of the city—two departments wherein opportunities for political machine work are most extensive. The other gives to Salt Lake City a system of self government that is aimed at eliminating the professional politician, which has for its deliberate purpose the restoring of city government to the people, who will then administer it through business and not political agents.

If the Des Moines plan of government is adopted the police and fire departments will go under civil service rules, so that a man in either department will know that his promotion depends on efficiency, not on "pull." The other plan leaves the entire matter of administration in the hands of a commission to be named by the state governor, into whose make up no influence of the people of the city itself will enter.

What backing the fire and police commission measure will have is not certain. No one has spoken up for its passage as yet. Marks who introduced it, favored it in the house two years ago, when an opposition in the senate was so hostile that it could not pass.
At that time the party machinery was burned red hot in an effort to force the bill through, but this effort was unavailing in spite of work so determined that the leading opponents to the measure were ostracized from their party organization as a "quid" of insurgents—an ostracism which is still enforced against them.

The committee having both these bills in charge is working under the responsibility of selecting the better one in its judgment and recommending it for passage. That it cannot consistently report both bills for passage is obvious.

On this committee are the following senators: E. T. Hulaniski, chairman; Benner X. Smith, Albert E. Miller, John H. Seely, Carl A. Badger, Rudolph Kuchler, and Christopher Burton. Of these seven men Smith and Badger only are from Salt Lake, the only city affected by one of the bills, and the principal city affected by the other. Of the five outside senators Hulaniski, Kuchler and Burton come from Weber and Davis counties respectively, both of which are close neighbors of Salt Lake county. Miller comes from the extreme southern end of the state, while Seely is from Sanpete. The committee should be ready to report early next week, but it is doubtful if the bill it favors will reach a place in the calendar until the prohibition question is finally disposed of.
